

HHP Inc.

HENNIKER, NEW HAMPSHIRE

Henniker Hardwood Products, Inc. (HHP Inc.) is an integrated forest products company. The 25 acre property includes a 50,000 square foot saw mill, a pallet manufacturing facility, and a round wood chip plant. As part of HHP Inc.'s investment in its manufacturing facilities, two new manufacturing buildings were added and the site was regraded in 2005.

SFC Engineering Partnership, Inc., (SFC) worked closely with HHP Inc. to engineer the site grading and to design foundations for the two new buildings. One new building houses a kiln for drying the wood; the kiln foundation design required close coordination with the kiln manufacturer, located in Italy. A new 260 feet long building sorts the wood products leaving the mill. The site grading is designed to allow large trucks to travel around the entire site, and to facilitate drainage.

HHP Inc. chooses to voluntarily participate in the Sustainable Forestry Initiative (SFI), a program that integrates reforestation, growth, and harvesting of trees with the conservation of soil, air, water, and wildlife resources.
