

MACDOWELL COLONY

PETERBOROUGH, NEW HAMPSHIRE

SFC Engineering Partnership Inc., (SFC) was selected by The MacDowell Colony of Peterborough, NH to survey and create topographic maps in preparation for planning the large expansion of their library. As the oldest residential artist's colony in The United States, understanding such things as the angle of the tree corridor as it related to the south facade of the library was important both aesthetically and from a functional standpoint. One foot contours depicted existing grades, and trees larger than twelve inches in diameter were identified as were visible utilities in the proposed work area.

By selecting SFC's experienced and Licensed Land Surveyors, The MacDowell Colony was able to bring its vision closer to reality by insuring their architects of solid information on which to proceed sensibly.
